

The Process of Guardianship

- If the person is competent, utilize other supports such as case management or rep payee. A medical doctor can tell you if the person is competent.
 - Legal Aide or private attorneys do guardianship and conservatorship
 - Wyoming Law says a relative or family friend (when appropriate) is the best guardian
 - Relevant people, including the potential ward, will be invited to the hearing
- The Court will make a decision about who the guardian should be, and write an order describing the guardianship
